Rights conferred by prospecting licence

12. A prospecting licence confers on the holder of the licence exclusive rights to carry on prospecting operations in the prospecting area for the minerals specified in the licence and to do all such other acts and things as are necessary for or reasonably incidental to the carrying on of those operations.

Application for prospecting licence

13. (1) An application for a prospecting licence shall be made to the Minister in the prescribed form and shall be accompanied by the prescribed fee.

(2) The application shall include-

- (a) in the case of an applicant who is an individual, his name, address and nationality and in respect of a company that is an applicant, its registered name and address and the names, addresses and nationalities of the directors and of any shareholder who is the beneficial owner of more than five per centum of the issued capital;

- (b) he is the holder of another mining right and is in breach of any condition of that right or in breach of any of the provisions of this Act or the regulations in relation thereto;
- (c) the area of land for which he has made application, or a part of it, is subject to another mining right, or extends to or is included in, an area in respect of which the Director has granted preliminary investigation rights on conditions which impose work or expenditure obligations, unless in any such case the applicant is himself the holder of that right; or
- (d) the area of land for which application has been made covers or includes an area of land for which application has been made by another person who has priority over the applicant.

(2) A prospecting licence shall-

- (a) state the date of the grant of the licence, the period, not exceeding two years, for which it is granted and the conditions on which it is granted;
- (b) specify the minerals in respect of which it is granted; and
- (c) include a description and plan of the prospecting area.

(3) There shall be appended to a prospecting licence the programme of prospecting operations, as accepted by the Minister, which shall form part of the conditions of the licence.

(4) In determining the date for the commencement in force of the licence, the Minister may take account of any period not exceeding six months from the date of the grant which is required by the applicant to make any necessary preparations for prospecting operations.

Renewal of prospecting licence

15. (1) A prospecting licence shall, on application, be renewed by the Minister for such period, not exceeding two years, as the licensee may require, if the holder of the licence-

- (a) undertakes to carry out during the renewal period an adequate programme of prospecting operations; and
- (b) relinquishes fifty per centum of the initial prospecting area on a first renewal, and fifty per centum of the balance on a second renewal, or such other size of area as may be agreed between the Director and the holder; and
- (c) is not in breach of any condition of his licence or in breach of any of the provisions of this Act or the regulations in relation thereto:

Provided that the Minister shall not reject an application for renewal by virtue of this paragraph unless the applicant has been given details of his default and has failed to remedy it within such reasonable time as the Minister has allowed or, where a default is not capable of remedy, has not offered in respect thereof reasonable compensation.

(2) Where the Minister considers it necessary for the completion of a feasibility study commenced by the holder into the prospects for recovery of any mineral deposit and its commercial significance, the licence may be renewed for such further period as the Minister may authorise but not exceeding one year.

Obligations of holder of prospecting licence

16. The holder of a prospecting licence-

- (a) shall commence prospecting operations within ninety days, or such further period as the Minister may allow, after the date of the grant of the licence or such other date as is stated in the licence as its commencement date;
- (b) shall give notice to the Minister of the discovery of any mineral deposit of possible commercial value within thirty days of the discovery; and
- (c) shall expend on prospecting operations not less than the amount prescribed or required by the terms and conditions of the licence to be so expended.

Removal of minerals

17. Except for the purpose of having the mineral analysed determining the value of the mineral or conducting tests on the mineral, the holder of a prospecting licence shall not remove any mineral from the prospecting area without the written permission of the Director and shall, when so removing any mineral, comply with such conditions as the Director may specify in the written permission.

Retention Licences

Rights conferred by retention licence

18. A retention licence confers on the holder exclusive rights to apply for a large-scale mining licence within the area for which the retention licence has been granted.

Application for retention licence

19. (1) The holder of a prospecting licence may apply to the Minister for the grant of a retention licence on the grounds that-

- (a) he has identified a mineral deposit within the prospecting area which is potentially of commercial significance; and
- (b) the mineral deposit cannot be developed immediately by reason of adverse market conditions or other economic factors which are, or may be, of a temporary character.

(2) An application for a retention licence shall be accompanied by studies and assessments by appropriate experts or consultants acceptable to the Minister on-

- (a) the extent and prospects for recovery, and the commercial significance, of the mineral deposit and the relevant market conditions and trends and economic factors; and
- (b) the impact of mining operations for the recovery of the mineral deposit on the environment and ways and means of eliminating or minimising any adverse effects; and such other information as the Minister may reasonably require as to the proposals of the applicant for the retention and development of the deposit.

Grant of retention licence

20. (1) The Minister, if he is satisfied that commercial development of the deposit is not presently possible for the reasons specified in the application, but may be possible within a period of six years, may grant a retention licence to the applicant over that part of the prospecting area which the Minister, after consultation with the applicant, anticipates is, or might be, required to mine the deposit identified by the applicant.

(2) Without limiting the power of the Minister to impose conditions on a mining right, the conditions of the licence may include conditions for the preservation of the mineral deposit.

(3) A retention licence may be granted for a period not exceeding three years.

21. (1) If the Minister remains satisfied that commercial development is not possible at the expiry of a retention licence, the licence may, on the application of the holder, be renewed for a single period of three years. Renewal of retention licence

(2) Before renewing such a licence, the Minister may require the holder to provide him with such updated studies and assessments of the prospects of the development and commercial exploitation of the mineral deposit as may reasonably be required.

Cancellation of retention licence

22. If the Minister is satisfied that commercial mineral development of an area that is subject to a retention licence has become possible during the currency of the licence, he may, by notice to the holder of the licence, require the holder to apply for a large-scale mining licence in respect of the area concerned and may, at any time thereafter, cancel the retention licence.

Large-Scale Mining Licences

Rights conferred by large-scale mining licence

23. (1) A large-scale mining licence confers on the holder exclusive rights to carry on mining and prospecting operations in the mining area, and to do all such other acts and things as are necessary for or reasonably incidental to the carrying on of those operations.

(2) Without limiting the generality of subsection (1), the holder of a large-scale mining licence may himself or by his servants and agents-

(a) enter on to the mining area and take all reasonable measures on or under the surface for the purpose of mining operations;

(b) erect the necessary equipment, plant and buildings for the purposes of mining, transporting, dressing or treating the mineral recovered in the course of mining operations;

(c) dispose of any mineral product recovered;

(d) prospect within the mining area for any mineral; and

- (i) such further information as the Minister may reasonably require for the disposal of the application.

(4) The applicant shall commission and produce to the Minister an environmental impact study on the proposed mining operations, to be prepared by persons who, in the opinion of the Minister, are suitably qualified and competent to do so.

Grant of large-scale mining licence

25. (1) Subject to the other provisions of this Act, on application by the holder of a prospecting licence, the Minister shall grant a large-scale mining licence in respect of the whole or such part of the prospecting area as the applicant may require if, taking account of any relevant stipulation in a development agreement-

- (a) it is established, or may be reasonably inferred, that there are sufficient deposits or reserves of minerals to justify their commercial exploitation;
- (b) the area of land over which the licence is sought is not in excess of the area reasonably required to carry out the applicant's proposed programme for mining operations;
- (c) judged by recognised standards of good mining practice, the applicant's proposed programme for mining operations would ensure the efficient and beneficial use of the mineral resources of the area over which the licence is sought;

- (d) the applicant's environmental plan conforms to specifications and practices established by national standards for the management of the environment as it is affected by mining operations;
- (e) taking account of the size and nature of the proposed mining operations, the applicant's proposals for the employment and training of citizens of Zambia are adequate; and
- (f) the applicant is not in breach of any condition of his prospecting licence or in breach of any of the provisions of this Act or the regulations:

Provided that the Minister shall not reject an application by virtue of this paragraph unless the applicant has been given details of his default and has failed to remedy it within such reasonable time as the Minister has allowed or, where a default is not capable of remedy, has not offered in respect thereof reasonable compensation.

(2) A large-scale mining licence shall be granted for such period, not exceeding twenty-five years, as the applicant may require.

(3) A large-scale mining licence shall-

(a) state the date of the grant of the licence, the period for which it is granted and the conditions on which it is granted; and

(b) include a description and plan of the area of land over which it is granted.

(4) There shall be appended to a large-scale mining licence-

(a) the programme of mining operations;

(b) the applicant's environmental plan; and

(c) the applicant's proposals for the employment and training of citizens of Zambia; as accepted by the Minister, which shall form part of the conditions of the licence.

Renewal of large scale mining licence

26. (1) The holder of a large-scale mining licence may, at any time not later than one year before the expiry of the licence, apply to the Minister for the renewal of the licence in respect of all or any part of the mining area.

(2) An application for renewal shall be made to the Minister in the prescribed form and shall be accompanied by the prescribed fee.

(3) An application under this section shall include or be accompanied by-

(a) a statement of the period, not exceeding twenty-five years, for which the renewal is sought;

(b) details of-

(i) the latest proved, estimated and inferred ore reserves;

(ii) the capital investment to be made in, and production costs and revenue forecasts in respect of, the period of renewal;

(iii) any expected changes in methods of mining and treatment;

(iv) any expected increase or reduction in mining activities and the estimated life of the mine;

(c) a proposed programme of mining operations for the period of renewals;

(d) if the renewal is sought in respect of part only of the mining area, a plan identifying that part.

(4) Except as provided by subsection (5), on an application duly made under this section, a large-scale mining licence shall be renewed by the Minister for a period not exceeding twenty-five years, and the Minister may renew the licence with or without a variation of the conditions of the licence.

(5) The Minister may reject an application for renewal after taking into account of any relevant stipulation in a development agreement-

(a) the development of the mining area has not proceeded with reasonable diligence;

(b) minerals in workable quantities do not remain to be produced;

(c) the programme of intended mining operations will not ensure the proper conservations and use in the national interest of the mineral resources of the mining area; or

(d) the applicant is in breach of any condition of his licence or in breach of any of the provisions of this Act or the regulations:

Provided that the Minister shall not reject an application by virtue of this paragraph unless the applicant has been given details of his default and has failed to remedy it within such reasonable time as the Minister has allowed or, where a default is not capable of remedy, has not offered in respect thereof reasonable compensation.
